LONDON INFIRMARY,

&c.

THIS Infirmary is governed by a President, Vice-Presidents, and a Committee.

The Committee is chosen annually at a General Meeting, and consists of 36 Governors, who meet quarterly to regulate its affairs.

A Sub-committee, consisting of 12 Governors, selected at the General Meeting from the Quarterly Committee, may be assembled monthly, or at any period between the quarterly meetings for the dispatch of immediate business.

A General meeting of the Governors is called as soon after the 25th of March, as the necessary arrangements can be made, to receive from the Committee the Report on the past year, and to select a new Committee for the present year.

This Infirmary is supported by Life-subscribers and Annual Subscribers.

A Subscriber of 10 Guineas is a Life-governor, and has the right of keeping constantly under the care of the Charity one patient, if of twenty guineas two patients, and so on in proportion to his subscription.

An Annual Subscriber of one guinea is a Governor, and has the right of keeping constantly under the care of the Charity one patient, if of two guineas, two patients and so on in proportion to his subscription.

The Patients are divided into two classes.

1st, Out-patients to whom advice and medicines are supplied gratuitously.

2d, In-patients, on whom the operation for the Cataract is performed.

N. B. As the Funds are unequal to the support of many Patients in the house, the blind from Cataracts are alone admitted, and these have hitherto been received according to priority of recommendation or application.

The days of attendance are Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, from half-past two to half-past four.

Subscriptions received at the following Banking-houses, Messrs. Kensington and Co. Lombard-Street; Messrs. Bond, Sons, and Patesall, Change-Alley; Messrs. Lubbock and Co. Messrs. Chatteris and Co. Lombard-Street; Messrs. Robarts, Curtis, Robarts, and Curtis, Lombard-Street; Messrs. Vere, Lucadou, and Co.

TO THE COMMITTEE.

GENTLEMEN,

AS you have resolved to submit this Charity in a regular form to the notice of the public, it will not be foreign to the design, if I should revert to the circumstances which attended its origin.—On the 1st of October 1804 I published a Proposal for instituting a DISPENSARY for the relief of the poor, afflicted with Diseases of the Eye and the Ear. This Proposal was sanctioned by the testimonials of the Physicians and Surgeons of St. Thomas's and Guy's Hospitals, where I had then been engaged in professional studies ten years, during eight of which I had acted as the Teacher of Practical Anatomy. The plan was immediately encouraged—this Charity was instituted under the name of the LONDON DISPENSARY for curing DISEASES OF THE EYE and EAR, and opened for the reception of patients on the 25th March 1805.

Subsequently to the date of my Proposal, a similar Institution, honoured with the Royal Patronage, was formed and established in Westminster. Although the Prospectus of the Royal Infirmary was not heard of until many months after the Publication of my Proposal, yet it must be admitted that that Institution first appeared before the public in a regular and organized form, and this, which is the original, is consequently considered by all who are unacquainted with the facts as the copy. Apprehensive of this impression, I immediately claimed by public advertisements which were never answered, the priority of my proposal.

I should be excused for thus obtruding on your notice if I sought merely the indulgence of honest pride, by maintaining this just claim to respect, but I shall yet more readily be excused, when you reflect, that if I had abandoned this claim, the Public would continue to regard me as an humble copyist.

In the return which I have now the honour of delivering to you, the Cured are arranged under the heads of the Diseases with which they were afflicted. In addition to the observations made on the last Report, which are equally applicable to the present, there is one point on which I must beg the indulgence of expatiating, I mean the adaptation of an Operation on the Cataract to the condition of Childhood, by which I have successively cured without a failure fourteen persons born blind, some of them even in infancy, and it has just been performed on an Infant only two months old, who is in a state of convalescence. As I reserve for another occasion the communication of the method which I pursue for the cure of very young children, I shall no farther compare it with Extraction, than by observing, that Extraction is wholly inapplicable to children, or only fortuitously successful. Those who on all occasions adhere to this Operation, and have never turned their thoughts towards the application of means more suitable to this tender age, have been obliged to wait until the patient has acquired sufficient reason to be tractable—otherwise when they have deviated from this conduct, the event has afforded little cause of self-congratulation.

How great the advantage of an early cure, is a question of no difficult solution. Eyes

ORIGINALLY affected with Cataracts contract an unsteady and rolling motion, which remains after their removal, and retards, even when it does not ultimately prevent, the full benefit of the Operation. A person cured at a late period cannot overcome this awkward habit by the utmost exertion of Reason or efforts of the Will. But the actions of the Infant are instinctive. Surrounding objects attract attention, and the eye naturally follows them. The management of the eye is therefore readily acquired, his vision rapidly improves, and he will most probably be susceptible of Education about the usual period.

I am,

Gentlemen,

Your obedient Servant,

J. C. SAUNDERS.

Ely Place, March 25, 1808.

ADDRESS OF THE COMMITTEE.

THE SIGHT is the noblest of our Senses, the source of a large portion of our Knowledge. Its gratifications are most refined, and approach in a great degree the nature of Intellectual Pleasures. As the possession of this Sense is productive of most exquisite delight, so the loss of it is attended with proportionate misery. All suffer essentially by this misfortune; the learned and opulent, from deprivation of enjoyments for which education and habit have given them a high relish;—the unlearned and poor from inability to labour. No longer capable of supporting themselves, their independence ceases, and they are thrown on the mercy and bounty of society. But he, who is originally destitute of sight, enters the world with an inferior capacity for the acquisition of Knowledge, and can never reach the excellence of his Species; he is reduced below the rank which in the scale of existence, the bounty of Providence has accorded to man.

Sympathy for the Blind has inspired the minds of the Benevolent to seek effectual means to ameliorate their condition. Their wisdom and munificence have founded Schools for their education. Some have acquired sufficient ability to maintain themselves, and have risen to a state of comparative independence, others sufficient to contribute to their maintenance, and all, even those who have possessed talents the most moderate, have been rescued from the wretchedness of total indolence. The active principle in our nature, if it remain unexercised, excites a most tormenting irritation in the mind, or subsides in listless apathy. These Seminaries, whilst they release society from the burden of useless members, promote the happiness of the individuals by giving them the means of labour. Thus the weariness of time is relieved by occupation, and their days pass cheerfully away. All that can be accomplished is, however, but an alleviation of misfortune, ample cause remains for the exercise of pity, the Blind can enjoy only a portion of the blessings which their more fortunate Fellow creatures possess.

These Establishments have been noticed in this Address, not for comment but illustration, to shew how much the fate of the Blind has engaged the social feelings of mankind. The good which they confer on society and the objects of their care, is manifest, and needs no elucidation, nor can the benevolence of their supporters be exalted by praise.

This Infirmary, although it confessedly aspires to a greater good, seeks but an equal share of respect, as it is supported by similar benevolence. To preserve and restore the Sight when endangered or lost by accident or disease, is the object, for which it has been established. This Institution therefore endeavours to prevent, and actually does in a great measure prevent, the evil which those are employed in mitigating.

The Committee avail themselves of the close of the third year, when experience has displayed the utility of this Infirmary, to publish its proceedings to the world. The Benevolent will on this occasion participate in their sentiments—satisfaction for the past and anticipation of future success, —an anticipation which is founded on the character and conduct of the Gentleman from whom the plan of the Charity originated, and to whose skill and personal exertions its usefulness is to be ascribed. Let it not be thought, that in bestowing this just applause, they have exceeded the line of their duty. By diffusing a knowledge of his talents and the application of them, they advance the interests of the Institution, and it is grateful to their feelings to blend distinguished individual merit with the great and general cause of benevolence.

They feel it their indispensable duty to call the public attention to the fact, that the Operation on persons born blind with Cataracts has hitherto been deferred until they arrive at an age when reason will teach them the necessity of submission. To Mr. Saunders belongs the praise of having overcome the difficulty of the case, by an operation which he has performed with uniform success on Children at various ages earlier than that at which Oculists have been accustomed to operate, and even on an Infant only nine months old.

It is to be regretted that the Finances of the Infirmary are low, and sufficient to accomplish only a small portion of the service of which it would otherwise be capable. In the House, large enough for accommodating only sixteen persons, but three can at once be admitted. The reception of In-patients has been restricted to such as are afflicted with Cataracts. Of these there is now a large list, who are impatiently waiting for admission, and it is apprehended that many have in consequence of delay relinquished the hope of relief.

The Committee return their sincere thanks to those Gentlemen who have already supported the Infirmary, and particularly request them to interest their friends in its behalf. When the ground of the appeal is perceived, their feelings, it is hoped, will prompt them to support what their judgment cannot but approve. They therefore beg an attentive perusal of the Reports, and confidently rely on receiving Pecuniary aid adequate to the increasing demands. To a humane, generous, and opulent Public, no more is necessary than to shew—that there is a capability of affording relief, and that there are unfortunate objects to claim it.

At a General Meeting of the Governors, held at the Infirmary, April 13, 1808.

THE RT. HON. JOHN ANSLEY, LORD MAYOR, IN THE CHAIR.

The preceding Reports, Medical and Pecuniary, with the Address of the Committee, were read and approved, and ordered for publication with a List of the Governors.

RESOLVED,

THAT the warmest Thanks and Approbation of this Meeting be given to MR. SAUNDERS for the great zeal and industry which he has uniformly evinced in promoting gratuitously the object of this Charity, but particularly for the ability which he has displayed in adapting with uniform success the operation for the Cataract to the condition of infancy.

THAT the Thanks of this Meeting be given to DR. FARRE for his friendly assistance in conducting the affairs of this Charity, but particularly for the great service which he has rendered in taking charge of those cases which require the aid of the Physician.

That the Thanks of this Meeting be given to SIR CHARLES PRICE, Bart. M.P. President, for the great zeal which he always manifested in promoting the interests of the Infirmary.

Also to HENRY KENSINGTON Esq. Treasurer, for his great attention to its pecuniary concerns.

J. ANSLEY.

RESOLVED,—That the Thanks of this General Meeting be given to the Right Honourable J. ANSLEY, Lord-Mayor, for his kindness in taking the chair, and his able conduct therein.

By order of the General Meeting,

R. BATTLEY, SECRETARY.
